About Tommy Davidson

Tommy Davidson's exceptional range—from stand-up comedy and acting to versatile music ability—have earned him a reputation as an extraordinary performer. Best known as one of the original stars of the hit television show In Living Color, his reach is built on the show's and its star's ground-breaking and innovative talent.

Davidson started his career as a standup comedian in Washington DC, earning an ardent following via hard work in various comedy clubs. As one of the cutting-edge, young stand-ups he was spotted by huge concert promoters—who booked him as the opening act for major touring artists including Patti LaBelle, Kenny G and Luther Vandross.

Tommy travels internationally selling out every venue in which he headlines. He leaves an indelible, ever-lasting image with all audiences who still chuckle on the way home.
